

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

RPL is an assessment process that recognises the existing skills and knowledge of a client, and transforms this industry experience into a recognised qualification.

RPL is an assessment process that recognises the existing skills and knowledge from clients with experience in a particular industry. The easy RPL process acknowledges these existing skills and knowledge so takes almost no time to complete.

With RPL there's no need to worry about attending classes or seminars, or being late when submitting an assignment. The Directions assessors will come out to you and observe your staff in their working environment.

Guarantee your customers a professional and competent workplace with a certificate to prove it. With an Australian Nationally Recognised Qualification behind you, there's no denying your capacity to provide an exceptional service.

The RPL Process

Step 1

You will have an interview with your Directions RPL Assessor to identify what subjects you can RPL in and any extra training required.

Step 2

Using the tools we provide, you will commence gathering evidence from your workplace. This may include workplace documents, supervisor reports, job descriptions or our assessor may need to observe you on the job.

Step 3

You will have a final interview with your Directions RPL Assessor to review your evidence and discuss any gaps.

The 3 step RPL process is quick and easy to complete.
